

2

First National Bank of Covina Building (1924)

3

First National Bank of Covina Building (1901)

5

Covina Hospital

6

Volunteer Tree Planting at Covina City Park

7

Lions Club dedicating City Park bandstand

Adams Ranch Stone Pillars on Badillo Street

12

Adams Family at Adams Ranch stone pillar

13

C.T. Harris Home

Painting of the Badilla/J.S. Phillips

Bibliography

"About the Covina Heritage House." Covina Heritage House Blog, www.covinaheritagehouse.blogspot.com.

Hall, Barbara Ann. Images of America: Covina. San Francisco, CA: Arcadia Publishing, 2007.

Pflueger, Donald H. Covina: Sunflowers, Citrus, Subdivisions. Pasadena, CA: Grant Dahlstrom Designer at Castle Press. 1964.

The Covina Argus, 1893-1945.

14

- Replica Stone Pillars Replicas of the stone pillars built by Jack Nelson at Adams Ranch. You will see the original pillars at stop #12.
- Heritage Plaza History Panels Review the Heritage Walk history panels to get an introduction to Covina History.
- First National Bank Building (1924) The First National Bank of Covina moved into this building in 1924.
- First National Bank Building (1901) The 1st permanent building for the bank. Built of red brick at a cost of $14,000.
- Covina's First Hospital The Wittler sisters and Lavinia Graham moved Covina's first hospital to this site in 1925.
- Covina City Park In 1921, the City of Covina purchased 10 acres from Adams Ranch to develop Covina City Park.

- Covina Park Bandstand The Covina Lions club funded the bandstand along with a number of other amenities for City Park.
- South Bandshell Mural In 1881, J.S.
  Phillips purchased 2,000 acres from John E.
  Hollenbeck to form Covina.
- 9 North Bandshell Mural Gladys Ratekin had a dream to publish a book about Covina. Her records preserved Covina's history.
- Heritage House The Covina Valley
  Historical Society raised the funds to preserve and move the Nash Home in 1989.
- Adams Park Subdivision The rest of Adams Ranch was subdivided and opened for real estate transactions in 1923.
- Adams Ranch Stone Pillars These are a set of the original pillars that once surrounded the property.

- Badilla/Phillips Home Site of former Badilla home. Badilla was mistakenly changed to Badillo sometime around 1885.
- C.T. Harris Property This home was constructed in 1895. The property had 10 acres of citrus and tropical plants.
- San Bernardino Road This historical road served as a coach and wagon road long before Covina was founded.
- Inter-Community Hospital In 1947, Eleven communities came together to purchase the hospital from the Wittler sisters.
- West Cottage Drive A number of these homes were built in the early 1900s. Some of the older structures in Covina.
- Heritage Plaza Thank you for participating, feel free to further explore the history panels in the Heritage Walk.